

Business

FAU researcher wins $30,000 grant

BOCA RATON — The Campbell Foundation said this week that it awarded $30,000 to a professor at Florida Atlantic University for HIV research.

Massimo Caputi, associate professor of biomedical science at FAU's Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine, is studying a cellular protein to inhibit HIV's spread in T-cells.